The election of McKinley in Ohio caused much sorrow in England.

A serial story is now running on the inside pages of this paper, which is intensely interesting.

The Warren Register says about one-half the wheat crop remains unthreshed in that section of Marshall county.

A call has been issued by Chairman Heatwole for a meeting of the Republican state central committee on Dec. 7.

Malicious diphtheria prevails to such an extent at Sank Rapids and Pelican Rapids that the public schools have been closed.

It would be a good idea to banish the anarchist flag from the United States and attach a death penalty to any one who floats it.

Twelve quartets of beer were mingled into the deliberations of a Michigan jury and the court was heartless enough to set aside the verdict.

About $3,000,000 of sugar bounty will be distributed among Louisiana planters this year, in accordance with the provisions of the recent act of congress.

CONGRESS convenes two weeks from next Monday. Our own and only little Halverson will then take his seat. What a representative to succeed Comstock and Nelson.

A former editor of the Prison Mirror, of the Stillwater penitentiary, has been arrested for forgery in New York state. He evidently likes that kind of newspaper business.

Petty jealousy in the Salvation Army ranks caused a double tragedy at Omaha on Sunday last. Capt. Hattie Smith was fatally shot by Private Nettie Biedler, who suicided immediately afterwards.

DONNELLY was to have been bounced from the state alliance presidency unless he succeeded in vindicating himself in his libel suit against the Pioneer Press. The bouncing committee have not called on him yet, so it is natural to suppose that the dollar did it.

Tax republican national committee meet next Monday, when the place of holding the next national republican convention will be chosen. Minneapolis is working tooth and nail for the honor, and we hope she will succeed. All members from the North-west should support her claims, as she is simply able to accommodate the great gatherings that will be present.

Very much has been written about the young Emperor of Germany, but nothing has appeared which for a moment be compared in brilliancy and reason with the character sketch which Mr. W. T. Stead furnishes in the Review of Reviews (American edition) for November. The frontispiece of the magazine is a beautiful full-length portrait of the Emperor from a new painting recently completed by a prominent German artist. Other portraits of the Emperor appear in the course of the sketch.

It is perhaps not generally known, remarks an exchange, that there is a horse on the United States pension list. It is the faithful steed which General Custer rode at the battle with the Indians at the Little Bighorn in 1876, and in which the General and all his men were killed. The General's horse, Comanche, escaped badly wounded, and is now cared for by F. F. Riley, Kansas. His pension is sufficient to pay his transportation wherever he goes and to pay his food. He is cared for by a man detailed for the duty, and does nothing else. He is saddled, bridled, and led out for inspection, but no one sits in the saddle.

A FORTUNE

Inherited by few, is pure blood, free from hereditary taint. Catarrh, consumption, rheumatism, Scrofula, and many other maladies born in the blood, can be effectively eradicated only by the use of powerful purifiers. The standard specific for this purpose—the one best known and approved—is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the compound, concentrated extract of Honduras sarsaparilla, and other powerful alternatives.

"I consider that I have been

SAVED

several hundred dollars' expense, by using Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and would strongly urge all who are troubled with lameness or rheumatic pains to give it a trial. I am sure it will do them permanent good, as it has done me."—Mrs. Joseph Wood, West Plains, Mo.

Dr. J. W. Shields, of Smithville, Tenn., says: "I regard Ayer's Sarsaparilla as the best blood medicine on earth, and know of many wonderful cures effected by its use."

"For many years I was laid up with Scrofula, no treatment being of any benefit. At length I was recommended to give Ayer's Sarsaparilla a trial. I did so, and

By Taking

about a dozen bottles, was restored to perfect health—weighing 200 pounds—and am now a believer in the merits of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—James Pease, Mine Boss, Breckinridge Co. (Limited), Victoria, Ky.

"My niece, Sarah A. Loebe, was for years afflicted with scrofulous humor in the blood. About 18 months ago she began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and after taking three bottles was completely cured."—E. Caffall, P. M., Los Angeles, Cal.

BOUNTIES were paid for 61 bears, 30 wolves, 49 lynxes, 6,016 foxes, 739 eagles and 4,589 hawks in Norway last year. The supply is not exhausted.

It has been demonstrated that it would take 360,000 mosquitoes to weigh a pound. If an elephant had as much power for mischief and discomfort according to his size as a mosquito, what a monster he would be.

BELGIUM has a population of 6,030,042; Kansas has a population of 1,427,999, yet she is so large that seven countries the size of Belgium could be laid down within her border, and yet she would have 400,000 square miles of unoccupied territory left.

It is said to be a whole day's task for two men to fell a mahogany tree. On account of the spurs which project from the base of the trunk, a scaffold has to be erected and the tree cut off above the spurs, leaving thus a stump of the very best wood from ten to fifteen feet high.

A FELLOW of the name of Vaughn, hailing from Connecticut, claims to have discovered the cause of earthquakes. Whether he will establish a bureau and keep them for sale at so much per shake is not stated. But as a discoverer he is a close second to the cloud-compelling Melbourne.

FRENCH-CANADIANS who move over the border into New England usually Anglicize their names in the course of a generation or so. Dubois becomes Woods, Des Ruisseaux and Lariviere become Rivers, etc. Occasionally curious freaks in appellation result from the practice. Not long ago a French-Canadian named Noel Roquette took out his naturalization papers as Christmas Snowshoe.

PROFESSOR LEE, chief of the Bowdoin College expedition party, has returned to Halifax, N. S., from Labrador. He claims to have discovered a race of Montagnais Indians, hitherto unknown to white men, and has also brought back a valuable collection of natural history specimens. The fish species which he has collected are double the number previously known to exist in those waters.

The Legion of Honor schools founded by Napoleon to educate the daughters of the legionnaires have lately undergone important changes. The original course trained the girls to excel in all domestic duties, but it now seems more necessary to give them instruction in some direction which will enable them to earn a livelihood. Accordingly, they pass examinations and take diplomas in various branches preparatory to business careers.

A MISQUOIAN left his wife and went to Australia 41 years ago. The report came back that he was dead. A few days ago, however, he unexpectedly returned home with a large fortune. "There was a joyous meeting between husband and wife so long separated, but once more happily reunited. Strange to say, his wife had lived single all these many years, with the dim hope of once more seeing her husband. They are both quite aged now, being upward of 70 years."

Nor since the days of Boulanger has Paris had such a sensation as she has lately enjoyed, on account of the effusive display of friendship with Russia. Everywhere are to be seen colored lithographs representing the Czar and President Carnot united under entwined French and Russian flags. The cafes chantants have the Russian hymn, which is solemn and dolorous enough, sung and played nightly.

HERE'S another exasperating development in the working of the Chinese exclusion act. A Chinaman in jail in Tucson gave an explanation of the attempted exodus of Chinese from Mexico into the United States. He said that one Chinaman who was recently arrested for illegally entering the United States from Mexico and was taken to San Francisco had first sent home all his savings of several years' work in Mexico and then deliberately crossed to the United States that he might be captured and sent home to China at the expense of the United States.

PEOPLE who happen to be possessors of small heads have reason to be grateful to the great German Scientist, Professor Virchow, for vindicating them from an unflattering stigma. There has always been a popular belief that the size of the brain is in proportion to that of the skull, and that large-headed people are, therefore, endowed with a greater amount of intellectual apparatus than those whose heads are small. Professor Virchow disposes of this theory by pointing out that the Greeks, one of the most intellectual of nations, are also one of the smallest headed of races.

"It is a singular thing," says a physician, "that a man does not hear his own voice exclusively through his ears. The prevalence of throat deafness is a proof to the laymen of the connection between the ears and throat, and this inability to hear one's self speak just as others hear us is another instance. In some people this peculiarity is very marked, and in my case, if I speak into a phonograph and let the machine grind out the sounds again, I don't recognize the voice at all. In regard to singing, the ability to hear one's self with the ears plugged up with cotton makes itself evident, for while one member of a chorus will only hear the blended harmony, or discord, another will hear little beyond his or her own voice, and make occasional bad breaks in consequence. I know a man who used to sing a very fair baritone, but whose voice is now yet adapted to the weakest falsetto. Yet he does not realize the change, and I believe he honestly thinks he sings as well as ever. This apparent impossibility may be a dispensation of providence to prevent men with exceptionally ugly voices being driven to suicide."

A PIONEER'S FATE.

Origin of the Scalp Legend of the Charters Valley, With a Few Ghostly Additions to the Story.

There is an uncanny local legend of the lower end of the Charters Creek Valley, near Pittsburgh, which is known to the other inhabitants of that section as the scalp legend of the Charters.

A mile or so up the creek the valley opens out, making a beautiful pastoral expanse of fertile bottom land. The view over and upon this from the hills at the rear of Sheridan is lovely by day and weird by night.

The last named element in the night scene is partially caused by the flickering gas fires from the wells in the Charters field.

At an early date in the pioneer history of this section and long before the days of Indian warfare had ended, an adventurous voyager ran his canoe into the mouth of Charters creek. Attracted by its sylvan scenery and the prospects of finding a good location to settle upon, he paddled up a short distance and then explored further along the bank.

After particularly examining the locality he chose and marked out the "tomahawk" claim, with fine timber and water and a southern exposure.

On the next morning he came, with a wife, a little boy and girl and a brother who was slightly his junior.

But one fateful evening in the early summer the brothers returned from a long and successful day's hunt and found the cabin was a smoldering heap of ruins. Partially in the ashes were the charred, mangled and scalped forms of the young wife and children.

The Indians had evidently been gone some hours. Controlling their agony as they could, the brothers tenderly moved and sadly buried the remains of their loved ones beneath an immense cypress tree upon the banks of the creek.

The United States commissioner at Fargo was called to the scene by the brothers. His attorney immediately gave notice of appeal to the United States district court.

John Remington's trial on the charge of murder was held in the district court at Fargo, and much interest is being taken in the case. Application has been made by the attorney for an adjournment of the trial.

Brainerd Dispatch.

INGERSOLL & WIELAND, Publishers.
BRainerd, MINN.

ROUTINES were paid for 61 bears, 30 wolves, 40 lynxes, 6,016 fishes, 739 eagles and 4,389 hawks in Norway last year. The supply is not exhausted.

It has been demonstrated that it would take 360,000 mosquitoes to weigh a pound. If an elephant had as much power for mischief and discomfort according to his size as a mosquito, what a monster he would be.

Belgium has a population of 6,030,043. Kansas has a population of 1,427,096, yet she is so large that seven counties the size of Belgium could be laid down within her border, and yet she would have 400,000 square miles of unoccupied territory left.

It is said to be a whole day's task for two men to fell a mahogany tree. On account of the spurs which project from the base of the trunk, a scaffold has to be erected and the tree cut off above the spurs, leaving thus a stump of the very best wood from ten to fifteen feet high.

A fellow of the name of Vaughn, hailing from Connecticut, claims to have discovered the cause of earthquakes. Whether he will establish a bureau and keep them for sale at so much per shake is not stated. But as a discoverer he is a close second to the cloud-compelling Melbourne.

FRENCH-CANADIANS who move over the border into New England usually Anglicize their names in the course of a generation or so. Dubois becomes Woods, Des Ruisseaux and Lariviere become Rivers, etc. Occasionally curious freaks in appellation result from the practice. Not long ago a French-Canadian named Noel Roccoquequeque used his naturalization papers as a Christmas snowshoe.

PROFESSOR LEE, chief of the Bowdoin College expedition party, has returned to Halifax, N. S., from Labrador. He claims to have discovered a race of Montagnais Indians, hitherto unknown to white men, and has also brought back a valuable collection of natural history specimens. The fish species which he has collected are double the number previously known to exist in those waters.

The Legion of Honor schools founded by Napoleon to educate the daughters of the legationaires have lately undergone important changes. The original course trained the girls to excel in all domestic duties, but it now seems more necessary to give them instruction in some direction which will enable them to earn a livelihood. Accordingly, they pass examinations and take diplomas in various branches preparatory to business careers.

A MISSOURIAN left his wife and went to Australia 41 years ago. The report came back that he was dead. A few days ago, however, he unexpectedly returned home with a large fortune. "There was a joyous meeting between husband and wife so long separated, but once more happily reunited. Strange as may be, his wife had lived single all these many years, with the firm hope of once more seeing her husband. They are both quite aged now, being upward of 70 years."

Nor since the days of Boulanger has Paris had such a sensation as she has of late enjoyed, on account of the effusive display of friendship with Russia. Everywhere are to be seen colored lithographs representing the czar and President Carnot united under entwined French and Russian flags. The cafes chantants have the Russian hymn, which is solemn and gorgeous enough, sung and played nightly.

HERE'S another exasperating development in the working of the Chinese exclusion act. A Chinaman in jail in Tucson gave an explanation of the attempted exodus of Chinese from Mexico into the United States. He said that one Chinaman who was recently arrested for illegally entering the United States from Mexico and was taken to San Francisco had first sent home all his savings of several years' work in Mexico and then deliberately crossed to the United States that he might be captured and sent home to China at the expense of the United States.

PEOPLE who happen to be possessors of small heads have reason to be grateful to the great German Scientist, Professor Virchow, for vindicating them from an unflattering stigma. There has always been a popular notion that the size of the brain is in proportion to that of the skull, and that large-headed people are, therefore, endowed with a greater amount of intellectual apparatus than those whose heads are small. Professor Virchow disposes of this theory by pointing out that the Greeks, one of the most intellectual of nations, are also one of the smallest headed of races.

"It is a singular thing," says a physician "that a man does not hear his own voice exclusively through his ears. The prevalent throat disease is a proof to the laymen of the connection between the ears and throat, and this inability to hear one's self speak just as others hear us is another instance. In some people this peculiarity is very marked, and in my case, if I speak into a phonograph and let the machine grind out the sounds again, I don't recognize the voice at all. In regard to singing, the ability to hear one's self with the ears plugged up with cotton makes itself evident, for while one member of a chorus will not hear his own voice, harmony or discord, another will hear little beyond his or her own voice, and make occasional bad breaks in consequence. I know a man who used to sing a very fair baritone, but whose voice is now only adapted to the weakest falsetto. Yet he does not realize the change, and I believe honestly thinks he sings as well as ever. This apparent impossibility may be a dispensation of providence to prevent men with exceptionally ugly voices being driven to suicide."

Residence Property Destroyed.
The residence property of John Lauerma, at the end of Eighth street south, was completely destroyed by fire on Monday evening about 8 o'clock.
No one was in the house at the time it took fire. Mrs. Lauerma being out delivering milk, and Mr. Lauerma out of the city, hence the flames gained great headway before an alarm was sent in, and the distance from the house being so great, the house was destroyed before the fire companies arrived on the scene. The loss was a total one, the value of the building being about $10,000. It was insured for $600. Owing to the absence of all the members of the family at the time, it is not known just how the fire originated, probably from a defective flue. This fire greatly showed the need of having horses at the Central Horse House to draw the hose carts when the distance to be traveled is so great, especially in the winter when the snow on the ground makes it almost impossible for men to draw the carts. Enough could be saved on one fire alone sometimes by an earlier arrival to pay the cost of keeping the horses a year.

Tin Wedding.

tained a large party of their friends joyable spent in card playing and pleasant social converse. Late in the evening refreshments were served.

Each guest was presented with a teaspoon with the date of their marriage and the date of the anniversary engraved thereon as a souvenir. The estimable host and hostess were the recipients of many useful and ornamental presents suitable to the occasion, among which was an elegant piano lamp, certainly a lovely present.
About 12 o'clock the guests departed, all wishing them many happy returns
of their anniversary.

"A Turkish Bath."

Once in a while a farce comedy is better than the expectation, and such is the case with "A Turkish Bath" as given at the Bushstreet Theater last evening. The name has nothing to do with the play, which might as well have been called anything else, nor is there very much of a play to call by any name but there is really quite a clever comedy, especially musically, and there is humor enough in the piece to make up for the lack of a plot.

Marie Heath, who is the chief attraction, plays the child better and more naturally than any grown-up actress on the comedy stage. Her voice, even, is childish, though she sings with a good deal of taste and execution. Emma Berg also sings very well, and the voices of Jeanne Olivier and Maybelle Eckert are heard to good advantage in the concerted pieces. Frank Murphy, as Robin Mc-Google, the Irish policeman, is very amusing, and T. D. Miles makes an excellent darkey. All the fun of the piece is clean and bright, without any suggestion of coarseness or vulgarity, but with plenty of absurd and laughable situations and incidents. The "Turkish Bath" will be an agreeable surprise to our theatre-goers.—San Francisco Chronicle.

At the opera house, one night only, Wednesday night, Nov. 25th.

Jack Keefe Stabbed.
The following telegram to the Minneapolis Tribune from Pipestone, Minn., will be of interest to many Brainerd people, as Keefe was at one time a local sport here:

Jack Keefe, the pugilist, was stabbed in the left shoulder by an unknown man on the Great Northern train going south this afternoon. The pair got into a row over a game of cards and the stranger drew a knife and stabbed Keefe, cutting an ugly gash about four inches deep and two long. He was brought here for surgical attendance. The wound may prove fatal.

The Enterprise grocery house are destroyers of high prices.

Staples Jail Burned.
A dispatch to the Minneapolis
Times from Staples says:

Fire broke out in the village jail about 12:30 this afternoon. It is supposed that it caught from a defective flue, but a prisoner had been released a few moments before and by some it is thought that the fire was the work of an incendiary. The loss will be about $400, fully covered by insurance.

Go to Mrs. H. Theviot No. 16 Front street, for your hats and bonnets, largest assortment and lowest prices.

headquarters for reliable fire insurance. Room 4, Sleeper Block.

Safe-Breakers at Aitkin.

Aitkin Age: The long expected visit of cracksmen has finally taken place, and it is fortunate that only one firm on the business street is the loser. D. L. Young & Co.'s store was entered on Wednesday night, the safe blown open and between $500 and $600 in checks and currency secured by the burglars. Entrance was effected by cutting a hole in the panel of the rear door of the store sufficiently large to admit a hand to slide the bolt which secured the door. Once inside, the "mechanics" lost no time in getting in their fine work on the little safe which stood behind the desk. A hole, half an inch in diameter, was drilled through the top of the safe, a charge of powder dropped through it into the safe, a fuse inserted and touched off, and the door stood open. Checks to amount of $223.31, and currency in bills and coin amounting to $311.64 were taken. Drills and tools, identified as belonging to Marr & Krech, were found by the proprietors near the safe, and it was afterwards discovered that the burglars had obtained possession of the tools by raising a window in Marr & Krech's shop and entering thereby. Every detail of the job gives evidence of the fact that the perpetrators were well posted. The bank checks taken by the thieves were found on Thursday morning by Mrs.
S. S. Luther on Fifth street just opposite her house, and were immediately returned by her to Messrs. Young & Co. No clue to the burglars has yet been found, but the authorities are catching at every straw, and will persistently work on the case until they land their men.

A Typesetter's Changeable Mind.

There is an honest typesetter in New York in possession of a pliable mind, which he is able to change according to the impressions made upon it. He once set type on a teetotal column, and after thinking over the anti-alcoholic arguments in his manuscript he signed the pledge.

He next got a job on a sporting weekly, and was soon led to join a base ball club. He afterward handled his stick in a Methodist weekly, and his reasoning soon led him to membership in the church. He then set type for a Presbyterian editor, whose copy convinced him of Calvinism.

He next "got a stiff" on a free trade paper which led him to revise his views of the tariff. He afterward worked as a type on a liquorish sheet, where, after setting a hundred galleys of arguments in favor of grog, he adopted the practice of taking a glass at times.

At latest accounts this typesetter of pliable mind was standing at the case in the office of a spiritualistic publication and had become convinced that his true function in life was that of a medium or faith curist.

EMPEROR AND CHANCELLOR.

The first William Jewell of the Popularity of His Advice.

In the German press at present a good deal of discussion is going on about the personal relations between the late Emperor William and Prince Bismarck. The following anecdote is said to have been related by Prince Bismarck himself: King William and his Chancellor were traveling together in a railway carriage, when the train stopped at a station and voices were heard outside. The Germans were occupying a certain place in the neighborhood at the time, and one of the speakers exclaimed: "Bismarck's people have arrived." The king asked the prince what the speaker meant.
The latter, however, pretended not to have understood. The king, after a pause, then said: "I should think the people ought to know that the troops are mine, not yours." "Since that time," said the prince, "whenever there was the least danger of wounding the sentibilities of the emperor my wife would warn me in the words: 'Think of the Bismarck!'"

Residence Property Destroyed.
The residence property of John Lauermaier, at the end of Eighth street south, was completely destroyed by fire on Monday evening about 8 o'clock.
No one was in the house at the time it took fire. Mrs. Lauermaier being out delivering milk, and Mr. Lauermaier out of the city, hence the flames gained great headway before an alarm was sent in, and the distance from the house being so great, the house was
destroyed before the fire com-
ing being about $1,000. It was in-
of all the members of the family at
fire originated, probably from a defective flue. This fire greatly
showed the need of having horses at
keeping the horses a year.

evening refreshments were served.
mental presents suitable to the oc-
piano lamp, certainly a lovely present.
About 12 o'clock the guests departed,
of their anniversary.

Council Meeting.
The council met in regular session on Monday evening, with Alderman McMurtre acting as president pro tem. The following bills were allowed:
Tribune.....$39 61
Wm. Barron.....3 75 A motion was made and carried that the clerk be instructed to divide the insurance money received from the state among the five different fire companies, and to draw orders for the same.

On motion the matter of fitting up the central hose house for winter, by putting on storm doors and windows, was referred to the purchasing committee.

The report of the electric light committee in regard to putting in four incandescent lights in the Third ward hose house and two in the Fourth ward hose house, was accepted.

On motion the electric light committee was instructed to secure a lease of the Cale building for one year for the storage of electric light supplies, and that the mayor and city clerk be authorized to execute the lease on the part of the city.

The clerk was instructed to notify W. C. Scott that a hospital would not be permitted in the limits of the city on the east side of the river.

The application and bond of Jas.
McCabe for liquor license was referred back for correction.

A communication from merchants, asking that a market place be established and farmers required to exhibit their produce there or pay a peddler's license, was accepted and placed on file.

Ordinance No. 94, regulating license of the city of Brainerd, was read and received its first reading. An attempt was made to pass it under a suspension of rules, but failed.

The finance committee was instructed to take steps to procure money to meet the obligations of the city falling due Jan. 1, 1892.

A communication from Leon E.
Lum, attorney for J. W. Koop, in regard to purchasing ground upon which the electric light power house stands, was referred to purchasing committee, they to act in conjunction with the city attorney.

Application of L. Phaneuf to put in a steam engine in his blacksmith shop, corner of Maple and Sixth streets, was granted.

Council adjourned.

is the case with "A Turkish Bath" as
given at the Bushstreet Theater last evening. The name has nothing to do
there very much of a play to call by
clever comedy, especially musically,
piece to make up for the lack of a plot.
Marie Heath, who is the chief attrac-
on the comedy stage. Her voice, even in children, is clear and singing, with a good deal of taste and execution. Emma Berg also sings very well, and the voices of Jesse Oliver and Maybelle Eckert are heard to
good advantage in the concerted
pieces. Frank Murphy, as Robin Mc-Google, the Irish policeman, is very
suggestion of coarseness or vulgarity,
able situations and incidents. The
Francisco Chronicle.

Jack Keefe Stabbed.
The following telegram to the Minneapolis Tribune from Pipestone,
Minn., will be of interest to many
time a local sport here:

known man on the Great Northern
and stabbed Keefe, cutting an ugly
long. He was brought here for sur-
prove fatal.

destroyers of high prices.

A dispatch to the Minneapolis
Times from Staples says:
posed that it caught from a defective
is thought that the fire was the work
about $400, fully covered by insurance.

street, for your hats and bonnets,
largest assortment and lowest prices.

1892.—This is to certify that I have examined the formula and prescribed by Dr. LeDuc's Periodical Pills of Paris, France. I have concluded that if this combination will not excite the masses, that there is nothing in medicine that will do it. It is a 115 grain ammonium, containing all the well known laxative drugs that act upon the generless and safe for all kinds of purposes on from any ROUTINES were paid for 61 bears, 30 wolves, 49 lynxes, 6,016 foxes, 739 eagles and 4,539 hares in Norway last year. The supply is not exhausted.

It has been demonstrated that it would take 360,000 mosquitoes to weigh a pound. If an elephant had as much power for mischief and mischief according to his size as a mosquito, what a monster he would be.

BELGIUM has a population of 6,030,042. Kansas has a population of 1,427,096, yet she is so large that seven countries the size of Belgium could be laid down within her border, and yet she would have 400,000 square miles of unoccupied territory left.

It is said to be a whole day's task for two men to fell a mahogany tree. On account of the spurs which project from the base of the trunk, a scaffold has to be erected and the tree cut off above the spurs, leaving thus a stump of the very best wood from ten to fifteen feet high.

A FELLOW of the name of Vaughn, hailing from Connecticut, claims to have discovered the cause of earthquakes. Whether he will establish a bureau and keep them for sale at so much per shake is not stated. But as a discoverer he is a close second to the cloud-compelling Melbourne.

FRENCH-CANADIANS who move over the border into New England usually Anglicize their names in the course of a generation or so. Dubois becomes Woods, Des Ruisseaux and Lariviere become Rivers, etc. Occasionally curious fancies in appellation result from the practice. Not long ago a French-Canadian named Ned Rogue took to his naturalization papers as Christmas Showcase.

PROFESSOR LEE, chief of the Bowdoin College expedition party, has returned to Halifax, N. S. from Labrador. He claims to have discovered a race of Montagnais Indians, hitherto unknown to white men, and has also brought back a valuable collection of natural history specimens. The fish species which he has collected are double the number previously known to exist in those waters.

The Legion of Honor schools founded by Napoleon to educate the daughters of the legionnaires have lately undergone important changes. The original course trained the girls to excel in all domestic duties, but it now seems more necessary to give them instruction in some direction which could enable them to earn a livelihood. Accordingly, they pass examinations and take diplomas in various branches preparatory to business careers.

A MISSOURIAN left his wife and went to Australia 41 years ago. The report came back that he was dead. A few days ago, however, he unexpectedly returned home with a large fortune. "There was a joyous meeting between husband and wife so long separated, but once more happily reunited. Strangers to say, his wife had lived single all those many years, with the dim hope of once more seeing her husband. They are both quite aged now, being upward of 70 years."

Nor since the days of Boulanger has Paris had such a sensation as she has of late enjoyed, on account of the effusive display of friendship with Russia. Everywhere are to be seen colored lithographs representing the czar and President Carnot united under entwined French and Russian flags. The cafes, restaurants, the Russian hymn, which is solemn and dolorous enough, sung and played nightly.

HERB'S another expatriating development in the working of the Chinese exclusion act. A Chinaman in jail in Tucson gave an explanation of the attempted exodus of Chinese from Mexico into the United States. He said that one Chinaman who was recently arrested for illegally entering the United States from Mexico and was taken to San Francisco had first sent home all his savings of several years' work in Mexico and then deliberately crossed to the United States that he might be captured and sent home to China at the expense of the United States.

PEOPLE who happen to be possessors of small heads have reason to be grateful to the great German scientist, Professor Virchow, for vindicating them from an unflattering stigma. There has always been a popular belief that the size of the brain is in proportion to that of the skull, and that large-headed people are, therefore, endowed with a greater amount of intellectual apparatus than those whose heads are small. Professor Virchow disposes of this theory by pointing out that the Greeks, one of the most intellectual of nations, are also one of the smallest headed of races.

"It is a singular thing," says a physician "that a man does not hear his own voice exclusively through his ears. The prevalence of throat deafness is a proof to the laymen of the connection between the ears and throat, and this inability to hear one's self speak just as others hear us is another instance. In some people this peculiarity is very marked, and in my case, if I speak into a phonograph and let the machine grind out the sounds again, I don't recognize the voice at all. In regard to singing, the ability to hear one's self with the ears plugged up, with cotton, makes itself manifest, for while one member of a chorus will only hear the blended harmony, or discord, another will hear little beyond his or her own voice, and make occasional bad breaks in consequence. I know a man who used to sing a very fair baritone, but whose voice is now only adapted to the weakest falsetto. Yet he does not realize the change, and believe honestly thinks he sings as well as ever. This apparent impossibility may be a dispensation of providence to prevent men with exceptionally ugly voices being driven to suicide."

ing, the disease being stomach trouble.
The funeral will occur on Saturday afternoon. The parents have the sympathy of a host of friends in their sad bereavement.

Residence Property Destroyed.
Laueran, at the end of Eighth street south, was completely destroyed by fire on Monday evening about 8 o'clock.
No one was in the house at the time it took fire, Mrs. Laueran being out delivering milk, and Mr. Laueran out of the city, hence the flames gained great headway before an alarm
house being so great, the house was destroyed before the fire companies arrived on the scene. The loss
ing being about $1,000. It was insured for $600. Owing to the absence
of all the members of the family at
fire originated, probably from a
defective flue. This fire greatly shaded the need of having horses at the Central Horse House to draw the
keeping the horses a year.

Tim Wedding.
Mr. and Mrs. M. McFadden entertained a large party of their friends on Tuesday evening last, the occasion being the tenth anniversary of their marriage. The evening was most enjoyable spent in card playing and
evening refreshments were served.
entire host and hostesses were the
mental presents suitable to the oc-
piano lamp, certainly a lovely present.
About 12 o'clock the guests departed,
of their anniversary.

is the case with "A Turkish Bath" as given at the Bismarck Theatre last evening. The name has nothing to do with the play, which might as well have been called anything else, nor is there very much of a play to call by any name but that it is really quite a clever comedy, especially musically,
and there is humor enough in the piece to make up for the lack of plot.

Marie Heath, who is the chief attrac-
on the comedy stage. Her voice,
with a good deal of taste and execution. Emma Berg also sings very well, and the voice of Jessie Olivier and Maybelle Eckert are heard to
good advantage in the concerted
pieces. Frank Murphy, as Robin Mc-Google, the Irish policeman, is very
suggestion of coarseness or vulgarity.

Jack Keefe Stabbed.
The following telegram to the Minneapolis Tribune from Pipestone,
Minn., will be of interest to many
time a local sport here:

Jack Keefe, the puglist, was stabbed in the shoulder by an unknown man on the Great Northern
and stabbed Keefe, cutting an ugly
long. He was brought here for sur-
prove fatal.

destroyers of high prices.

A dispatch to the Minneapolis
Times from Staples says:
posed that it caught from a defective
is thought that the fire was the work
about $400, fully covered by insurance.

Go to Mrs. H. Thiviot No. 16 Front street, for your hats and bonnets,
largest assortment and lowest prices.

Safe-Breakers at Aitkin.

visit of crackmen has finally taken place, and it is fortunate that only one
loser. D. L. Young & Co.'s store was
in checks and currency secured by the burglars. Entrance was effected by cutting a hole in the panel of the rear
in their fine work on the little safe
of powder dropped through into the safe, a fuse inserted and touched off,
bills and coin amounting to $311.64
were taken. Drills and tools, identified as belonging to Marr & Krech,
that the burglars had obtained possession of the tools by raising a window
evidence of the fact that the perpetrators were well posted. The bank
found on Thursday morning by Mrs.
S. S. Luther on Fifth street just opposite her house, and were immediately returned by her to Messrs. Young &
Co. No clue to the burglars has yet
land their men.

A Typesetter's Changeable Mind.
There is an honest typesetter in
mind, which he is liable to change according to the impressions made up-
organ, and after thinking over the anti-alcoholic arguments in his manuscript he signed the pledge.

He next got a job on a sporting
his reasoning soon led him to membership in the church. He then set type for a Presbyterian editor, whose copy convinced him of the error of his ways, and he was soon signing the pledge.

He next "got a slip" on a free trade
views of the tariff. He afterward
worked as a type on a liquorish sheet, where, after setting a hundred gallops
at times.

in the office of a spiritualistic publication and had become convinced that
medium of "ruth curlet."

EMPEROR AND CHANCELLOR.

The First William Feathers of the Popular Party of St. Paul.

In the German press at present a
heard outside. The Germans were occupying a certain place in the neighborhood at the time, and one of the speakers exclaimed: "Bismarck's people have arrived." The king asked the prince what the speaker meant.
The latter, however, stopped not to have understood. The king, after a pause, then said: "I should think the people ought to know that the troops are mine, not yours." "Since that time," said the prince, "whenever there was the least danger of wounding the sensibilities of the emperor my wife would warn me in the words: 'Think of the Bismarcks!'"
